Biographical Note

John Patrick Smith, Jr. was born on February 20, 1913. He had three siblings, Richard, Rodney, and Anne Lee (Nolan).

John Patrick Smith, Jr. lived with his father, John Patrick Smith, Sr. in Chicago before entering the Army on November 14, 1942. Smith served with the 48th Armored Division and the 7th Armored Division. Smith was stationed at Camp Polk [now known as Fort Polk], Camp Coxcomb, and Fort Benning.

In June of 1944, Smith was sent overseas and stationed in England, Italy, France, Belgium, Netherlands, and Germany.

Scope and Content of the Collection

The John Patrick Smith Collection includes letters, military documents, publications, photographs, newspaper clippings, and souvenirs related to the military service of Smith as a soldier in the 7th Armored Division during World War II. A large portion of letters in this collection are from Smith's family and detail life at home in Chicago. Also included in this collection are materials from Smith's post-war life.

Arrangement

The collection arrived with no discernible order and was arranged chronologically into series by PMML staff. The collection is contained within six legal boxes and one oversize box.

Series One: Military Documents and Ephemera

This series contains Smith's personal military document like immunization records, ration cards, and passes for leave. Also included in this series are 7th Armored Division orders and ration booklets.

Series Two: Publications

This series includes pocket guides, military newsletters, and information publications mainly about the 7th Armored Division.

Series Three: Correspondence

This series includes letters from Smith, family, and friends. These letters include correspondence with his sister Anne Lee Nolan and father, in which they detail life at home in Chicago to Smith while he is away at camp and overseas during the war.

Series Four: Newspaper Clippings

This series includes newspaper clippings from letters and newspaper clippings related to the war.

Series Five: Souvenirs

This series includes ephemeral items that Smith acquired while overseas. These items include tickets, greeting cards, currency, blank postcards, and stamps from the United States and abroad.

Series Six: Oversize Materials

This series includes oversize newspaper and magazine clippings from correspondence. Also included are two oversize 7th Armored Division posters.

Series Seven: Photographs

This series includes photographs from Smith's time overseas during the war in Paris, Germany, Netherlands, and Luxemburg. Also included in this series are photographs sent within correspondence.
